BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The office of the Clerk of Superior Court is created by the North Carolina Constitution which mandates that there be a Clerk of Superior Court for each county. Under the constitution, it is the responsibility of the General Assembly to prescribe jurisdiction and the powers of the Clerk. Laws of the General Assembly regarding clerks must be uniformly applied in every county in the State.

Voters of each county elect the Clerk of Superior Court to a four-year term. Clerks are paid by the State, with their salaries scaled in accordance with the population of their counties. The Clerk appoints the assistants, deputies and employees in his or her office. The number of assistants and deputies that each clerk may employ varies from county to county depending on the volume of business. Assistant and deputy clerks are paid on a salary schedule fixed by the Administrative Office of the Courts based on education and years of service in the Clerk's office; the maximum and minimum salaries within that scale are fixed by the General Assembly.

The responsibilities of the Clerk are numerous and varied. The Clerk, as a judicial officer of the Superior Court, has judicial responsibilities. The Clerk is judge of probate; that is, the Clerk handles the probate of wills (proceedings to determine if a paper writing is a valid will) and the administration of estates of decedents, minors and incompetents. The Clerk also hears a variety of special proceedings such as adoptions, incompetency determinations and partitions of land and is empowered to issue arrest and search warrants and to exercise the same powers as a magistrate with respect to taking pleas of guilty to minor littering, traffic, wildlife, boating, marine fisheries, alcoholic beverage, State park recreation and worthless-check offenses.

The Clerk is also responsible for all clerical and record-keeping functions of the Superior Court and District Court. The Clerk operates a unified record-keeping system for all civil actions, special proceedings, estates, criminal actions, juvenile actions, minutes of the court, judgments, liens, lis pendens, and numerous other records required by law. The Clerk maintains the judgment docket, is custodian of evidence in civil and criminal trials, and issues civil summons and subpoenas. In addition, the Clerk invests money received and held by his or her office in trust and receives and administers insurance or other money on behalf of minors and incapacitated adults.

OBJECTIVES, SCOPE, METHODOLOGY, AND RESULTS

OBJECTIVES

As authorized by Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the North Carolina General Statutes and in accordance with the standards contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, we have conducted a fiscal control audit at the Currituck County Clerk of Superior Court.

The objective of a fiscal control audit is to gather and evaluate evidence about internal control over selected fiscal matters, such as financial accounting and reporting; compliance with finance-related laws and regulations; and/or management of financial resources. Our audit does not provide a basis for issuing an opinion on internal control, and consequently, we have not issued such an opinion.

Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control. Internal control is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance that relevant objectives are achieved. Because of inherent limitations in internal control, errors or fraud may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of internal control to future periods are subject to the risk that conditions may change or compliance with policies and procedures may deteriorate.

SCOPE

Our audit scope covered the period February 1, 2007, through July 31, 2007. During our audit, we considered internal control related to the following accounts and control objectives:

Cash and Cash Equivalents - This classification includes change funds and cash on deposit with private bank accounts. We examined internal control designed to ensure that the Clerk properly safeguards and accounts for these assets. As of July 31, 2007, the Clerk had $760,498.48 in Cash and Cash Equivalents.

Investments - This classification includes pooled investments, certificates of deposit savings, and money market accounts. We examined internal controls designed to ensure that the Clerk properly safeguards and accounts for these assets. We also examined evidence to support compliance with finance-related laws and regulations over these assets. These laws and regulations set limits on authorized investments, set timing requirements for investing funds, provide for the Clerk to receive a fee for administering the investments, and provide for allocation of interest to the beneficial owner or owners of the funds. As of July 31, 2007, the Clerk had $712,841.06 in Investments.

Trusts - This classification includes funds held by the Clerk for minors, incapacitated adults, and others according to the terms of a court order, will or deed. We examined internal controls designed to ensure that the Clerk properly safeguards and accounts for these funds. We also examined evidence to support compliance with finance-related laws and regulations. These laws and regulations set guidelines for the receipt, administration, and disbursement of these accounts. As of July 31, 2007, the Clerk had $630,040.05 in Trust accounts.

Judgments – This classification includes civil judgments, condemnation awards, and liability for invested judgments. We examined controls designed to ensure that disbursements are for the court ordered payee and are supported by adequate documentation. We also determined that controls were in place to assure that undistributed judgments that should be invested are invested timely, in accordance with general statutes. As of July 31, 2007, the Clerk had $403,789.05 in Judgments.

METHODOLOGY

To accomplish our audit objectives, we gained an understanding of internal control, performed tests of control effectiveness, and/or performed direct tests of the accounts and transactions as we considered necessary in the circumstances. Specifically, we performed procedures such as interviewing personnel, observing operations, reviewing policies, analyzing accounting records and examining documentation supporting recorded transactions and balances.

RESULTS

The results of our audit disclosed instances of noncompliance that are considered reportable under Government Auditing Standards. These items are described in the Audit Finding and Recommendation section of this report.

AUDIT FINDING AND RECOMMENDATION

UNTIMELY INVESTMENTS

The Clerk's Office did not monitor its accounts to ensure that they were invested timely as required by law. In addition to noncompliance with North Carolina General Statutes, this also results in lost interest income for the owner of the deposits.

According to North Carolina General Statute 7A-112(b), "money in a single account in excess of $2,000 received by the Clerk that is expected to remain on deposit with the Clerk in excess of 6 months shall be invested by the Clerk within 60 days of receipt." We identified five cases where deposits over $2,000 were held in the checking account for more than six months.

Recommendation: The Clerk's Office should review accounts routinely to ensure that investments are made timely as required by law. As soon as it becomes evident that a deposit will be held for more than six months, it should be invested.

Clerk's Response: I submit the following response:

- 1.) Our office has taken the necessary steps to invest all cases with deposits over $2,000.00.
- 2.) Our office now has in place a tracking system to insure that any and all monies on deposit within 60 days of receipt will be invested.
