AUDITOR'S TRANSMITTAL

September 21, 2011

The Honorable Beverly Eaves Perdue, Governor The General Assembly of North Carolina The Honorable Steven E. Hollowell, Clerk of Superior Court

This report presents the results of our fiscal control audit at the Pamlico County Clerk of Superior Court. Our work was performed by authority of Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the North Carolina General Statutes and was conducted in accordance with the performance audit standards contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. The objective of a fiscal control audit is to identify improvements needed in internal control over selected fiscal matters, such as financial accounting and reporting; compliance with finance-related laws and regulations; and/or management of financial resources.

The results of our audit disclosed deficiencies in internal control and/or instances of noncompliance or other matters that are considered reportable under Government Auditing Standards. These matters are described in the Audit Findings and Responses section of this report.

North Carolina General Statutes require the State Auditor to make audit reports available to the public. Copies of audit reports issued by the Office of the State Auditor may be obtained through one of the options listed in the back of this report.

OBJECTIVES, SCOPE, METHODOLOGY, AND RESULTS

OBJECTIVES, SCOPE, AND METHODOLOGY

As authorized by Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the North Carolina General Statutes, we have conducted a fiscal control audit at the Pamlico County Clerk of Superior Court. There were no special circumstances that caused us to conduct the audit, but rather it was performed as part of our effort to periodically examine and report on the financial practices of state agencies and institutions.

The objective of a fiscal control audit is to identify improvements needed in internal control over selected fiscal matters, such as financial accounting and reporting; compliance with finance-related laws and regulations; and/or management of financial resources. Our audit does not provide a basis for rendering an opinion on internal control, and consequently, we have not issued such an opinion.

Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control. Internal control is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance that relevant objectives are achieved. Because of inherent limitations in internal control, errors or fraud may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of internal control to future periods are subject to the risk that conditions may change or compliance with policies and procedures may deteriorate.

To accomplish our audit objectives, we gained an understanding of internal control over matters described below and evaluated the design of the internal control. We then performed further audit procedures consisting of tests of control effectiveness that may reveal significant deficiencies in internal control. Specifically, we performed procedures such as interviewing personnel, observing operations, reviewing policies, analyzing accounting records, and examining documentation supporting recorded transactions and balances. Whenever sampling was used, we applied a nonstatistical approach but chose sample sizes comparable to those that would have been determined statistically. As a result, we were able to project our results to the population but not quantify the sampling risk.

As a basis for evaluating internal control, we applied the internal control guidance contained in Internal Control Integrated Framework, published by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). As discussed in the framework, internal control consists of five interrelated components, which are (1) control environment, (2) risk assessment, (3) control activities, (4) information and communication, and (5) monitoring.

We conducted this performance audit in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain sufficient, appropriate evidence to provide a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives. We believe that the evidence obtained provides a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives.

OBJECTIVES, SCOPE, METHODOLOGY, AND RESULTS (CONCLUDED)

Our audit scope covered the period January 1, 2011 through June 30, 2011. During our audit, we considered internal control related to the following accounts and control objectives:

Cash and Cash Equivalents - This classification includes change funds and cash on deposit with private bank accounts. We examined internal control designed to ensure that the Clerk properly safeguards and accounts for these assets. As of June 30, 2011, the Clerk had $98,223 in cash and cash equivalents.

Investments - This classification includes certificates of deposit and pooled savings accounts. We examined internal control designed to ensure that the Clerk properly safeguards and accounts for these assets. We also examined evidence to support compliance with finance-related laws and regulations over these assets. These laws and regulations set limits on authorized investments, set timing requirements for investing funds, provide for the Clerk to receive a fee for administering the investments and provide for allocation of interest to the beneficial owner or owners of the funds. As of June 30, 2011, the Clerk had $568,759 in investments.

Trusts - This classification includes funds held by the Clerk for minors, incapacitated adults, and others according to the terms of a court order, will, or deed. We examined internal control designed to ensure that the Clerk properly safeguards and accounts for these accounts. We also examined evidence to support compliance with finance-related laws and regulations. These laws and regulations set guidelines for the receipt, administration, and disbursement of these accounts. As of June 30, 2011, the Clerk had $621,552 in trust accounts.

RESULTS

The results of our audit disclosed deficiencies in internal control and/or instances of noncompliance or other matters that are considered reportable under generally accepted government auditing standards. These items are described in the Audit Findings and Responses section of this report.

AUDIT FINDINGS AND RESPONSES

Deficiencies in Segregation of Duties

The Clerk's office has given staff access rights to information systems and assigned job duties that are incompatible with adequate segregation of duties and not in compliance with the Clerk of Superior Court Financial Policies and Procedures Manual. As a result, errors, fraud, or misappropriations could occur and not be detected in a timely manner.

- The bookkeeper has access rights within the Financial Management System that allows her to enter cash receipts and void cash receipts. She also has access that allows her to disburse funds and create and post journal entries.
- The bookkeeper is solely responsible for the determination of the investment of funds, the investment fee calculation, the opening and deposit of investments with the bank, the closing and withdrawal of funds from the bank, and the posting of all associated journal entries for the investment of trust accounts. She is also responsible for the preparation of the pooled investment fund bank account reconciliation. There are no review procedures performed over any of these functions.

In the Clerk of Superior Court Financial Policies and Procedures Manual, guidelines are established to maintain segregation of duties. Adequate segregation of duties involves assigning responsibilities for transactions such that the duties of one employee automatically provide a cross-check on the work of other employees.

Recommendation: The Clerk should grant access rights to the information systems and assign job duties in accordance with guidance contained in the Clerk of Superior Court Financial Policies and Procedures Manual.

Clerk's Response: We have removed our bookkeeper's access to cash receipting. To strengthen internal controls with regards to accounting for investments, the Clerk and/or our Assistant Clerk will take an active role in all transactions related to the invested funds held by our office by, reviewing the monthly investment analysis, reviewing and approving fee calculations and payment authorizations made to create the investment and by personally opening and closing the investments myself.
