AUDITOR'S TRANSMITTAL

June 6, 2016

The Honorable Pat McCrory, Governor
The General Assembly of North Carolina
The Honorable Patricia Burnette Chastain, Franklin County Clerk of Superior Court

This report presents the results of our financial related audit at Franklin County Clerk of Superior Court. Our work was performed by authority of Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the North Carolina General Statutes and was conducted in accordance with the performance audit standards contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

The results of our audit identified a deficiency in internal control that is considered reportable under Government Auditing Standards. This item is described in the Audit Findings, Recommendations, and Responses section of this report.

North Carolina General Statutes require the State Auditor to make audit reports available to the public. Copies of audit reports issued by the Office of the State Auditor may be obtained through one of the options listed in the back of this report.

Article V, Chapter 147 of the North Carolina General Statutes, gives the Auditor broad powers to examine all books, records, files, papers, documents, and financial affairs of every state agency and any organization that receives public funding. The Auditor also has the power to summon people to produce records and to answer questions under oath.

As authorized by Article 5A of Chapter 147 of the North Carolina General Statutes, we have conducted a financial related audit at Franklin County Clerk of Superior Court. There were no special circumstances that caused us to conduct the audit, but rather it was performed as part of our effort to periodically examine and report on the financial practices of state agencies and institutions.

The voters of each county elect a Clerk of Superior Court for a four-year term. Clerks are responsible for all clerical and record-keeping functions of the superior court and district court. The Clerks' Offices collect, invest, and distribute assets in a fiduciary capacity. For example, the Clerks' Offices collect fines and court costs, hold cash and property bonds, administer estates on behalf of minors, and distribute resources to governmental and private parties as required.

The North Carolina Administrative Office of the Courts (NCAOC) provides statewide support services for the courts, including court programs and management services; information technology; human resources services; financial, legal, and legislative support; and purchasing services. In addition, the NCAOC prepares and administers the court system's budget.

The general objective of this financial related audit was to identify improvements needed in internal control over selected fiscal matters. Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control. Internal control is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance that relevant objectives are achieved. Errors or fraud may nevertheless occur and not be detected because of the inherent limitations of internal control. Also, projections of any evaluation of internal control to future periods are subject to the risk that conditions may change or that compliance with policies and procedures may deteriorate. Our audit does not provide a basis for rendering an opinion on internal control, and consequently, we have not issued such an opinion.

Our audit scope covered the period July 1, 2015 through January 31, 2016. During our audit, we considered internal control related to the following objectives:

Cash – The Clerk’s Office collects various fines, fees, and court costs daily, as well as collections for bonds, judgments, and other matters. We examined internal controls designed to ensure that the Clerk properly safeguards and accounts for cash receipts. We also examined internal controls designed to ensure compliance with laws and regulations related to depositing cash receipts. During the audit period, the Clerk collected $2,264,651 in cash.

Estates – The Clerk’s Office ensures all estates are charged an application fee plus an assessment based on the value of the estate’s inventory. An estate inventory is to be filed by the representative of the estate. We examined internal controls designed to ensure that the Clerk properly obtains an inventory for each estate in compliance with laws and regulations. We also examined internal controls designed to ensure compliance with laws and regulations related to the appropriate assessment and collection of estate fees. During the audit period, the Clerk collected $58,361 in estate fees.

Bond Forfeitures – The Clerk’s Office ensures that all motions or orders to set aside bond forfeitures meet specified criteria and are supported by required documentation. We examined internal controls designed to ensure compliance with laws and regulations related to the processing of these bond forfeitures. During the audit period, $498,250 in bond forfeitures were set aside.

To accomplish the audit objectives, auditors gained an understanding of the Clerk's internal control over matters described in the Audit Objectives and Scope section of this report and evaluated the design of the internal control. Auditors then performed further audit procedures consisting of tests of control effectiveness and/or substantive procedures that provide evidence about our audit objectives. Specifically, auditors interviewed personnel, observed operations, reviewed policies, analyzed accounting records, and examined documentation supporting recorded transactions and balances, as considered necessary in the circumstances. Whenever sampling was used, we applied a nonstatistical approach, but chose sample sizes comparable to those that would have been determined statistically. As a result, we were able to project our results to the population as applicable but not quantify the sampling risk.

As a basis for evaluating internal control, we applied the internal control guidance contained in professional auditing standards. As discussed in the standards, internal control consists of five interrelated components: (1) control environment, (2) risk assessment, (3) control activities, (4) information and communication, and (5) monitoring.

We conducted this audit in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards applicable to performance audits. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain sufficient, appropriate evidence to provide a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives. We believe that the evidence obtained provides a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives.

Based on the results of audit procedures described in the Methodology section of this report, auditors identified a deficiency in internal control that is considered reportable under Government Auditing Standards. This item is described in the Audit Findings, Recommendations, and Responses section of this report. Management's response is presented after the audit finding. We did not audit the response, and accordingly, we express no opinion on the response.

IMPROPER SYSTEM ACCESS INCREASED RISK OF UNDETECTED ERRORS AND FRAUD

Staff in the Clerk's Office had the ability to change and/or delete information in multiple systems, resulting in inadequate segregation of duties. Improper segregation of duties increased the risk that errors, unauthorized transactions, and fraud could have occurred and remained undetected. The Clerk's Office handled $2,264,651 in receipts during the audit period July 2015 to January 2016.

Specifically, six of 17 (35%) employees had inappropriate access to the Financial Management System (FMS), the Criminal Court Information System (CCIS), and/or the Civil Case Processing System (VCAP) as follows:

- Three employees had cashier rights in FMS and update access in CCIS. The employees could have potentially misappropriated funds by collecting cash from a criminal payment, bypassing receipt entry into FMS, and updating CCIS to indicate all costs have been paid. Two of these employees had additional access to VCAP where they could have changed or deleted civil case information.
- One employee had cashier rights in FMS and update access in VCAP. The employee could have potentially misappropriated funds by collecting cash from a civil payment, bypassing receipt entry into FMS, and updating VCAP to indicate all costs have been paid.
- Two employees had head bookkeeper rights in FMS and update access in VCAP. The employees could have potentially edited bills of cost and payee amounts and deleted civil case information.

While no instances of fraud were identified during the audit period, an increased risk of undetected fraud existed because access rights and duties were not properly segregated.

The Clerk's Office did not ensure that system access rights assigned to staff resulted in proper segregation of duties. According to the Clerk, the small staff size makes it difficult to achieve proper duty segregation. Also, some employees had been reassigned updated roles and responsibilities; however, their change in assignments had not been updated within the system.

Adequate segregation of duties is required by the Clerk of Superior Court Financial Policies and Procedures Manual. Proper segregation of duties involves assigning duties and access to assets and information systems so that one employee's duties automatically provide a cross-check of the work of other employees. The manual also requires semiannual reviews of employee system access rights.

Recommendation: The Clerk should reassign system access rights and job duties to properly segregate duties and perform semiannual reviews of employee system access rights in accordance with the Clerk of Superior Court Financial Policies and Procedures Manual. If it is not practical to segregate all incompatible duties, then effective monitoring procedures should be implemented to reduce the risk of errors or fraud.

Clerk's Response: We concur with the one finding by your office and as a result on March 10, 2016, we did remove the conflicting access of two staff immediately upon notice. Also, as discussed with the auditors, our office is small and we had four staff absent including two with extended medical conditions during the audit period. When the processes were performed, during that period of time, the staff was supervised and monitored.

We are taking further measures and steps to remove the conflicting program access. Efforts are being made to complete the cross training process of our office staff and finalize job duties which will ensure our office is in complete compliance with the State Auditor's recommendations. In addition, we are reviewing Judgment Transaction, Security Audit and related Criminal Reports. The Assistant/Head Bookkeeper is being designated to administer the corrective procedures.
